Philly Derm Liaison

Eileen O'Shaughnessy

Dear Atlantic Derm Members, Colleagues, and Friends:

Your Philadelphia-based Atlantic Derm Planning Committee is diligently at work on the 92nd Atlantic Dermatological Conference. We are eager to see you from April 24th to April 26th, 2015 in the birthplace of America!

In addition to our live patient viewing session, we are excited to share several new initiatives launching this year:

Atlantic Derm Has Gone Digital: Everything you need to know about Atlantic Derm can now be found on our new, permanent website at www.AtlanticDermConference.org. Also, find us on Twitter: @AtlanticDermADC.

Interactive Sessions: Using an app on your smartphone, we hope to turn the meeting into an interactive conversation among experts. Our mission is to better facilitate audience learning and more effectively share invaluable information for the benefit of our patients. Check out the Atlantic Derm website for more details.

Poster Session: We are welcoming poster and abstract submissions. Three winners will be selected to present their research at the general session on Sunday. Submit your research on our website by February 1, 2015.

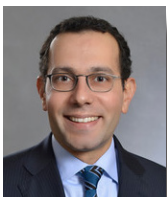

The Barnes Foundation: Please join us for a truly unique Saturday night event. We have arranged exclusive access to The Barnes Foundation Collection Galleries in its stunning new Center City location. The Barnes Collection is considered one of the greatest collections of post-Impressionist and early Modern art in the world. The Collection has more Cezannes and Renoirs than the city of Paris and more than any public or private collection in the world! We have lowered the cost this year for everyone. We hope that you will join us.

Philly Fun Run...“Don’t Tan It, TONE IT”: We invite you and your family to join us on Sunday morning! On a free, guided tour of Philadelphia, participants will learn fitness-related dermatology intermixed with bursts of fun exercises led by two dermatology fitness specialists.

Bring your Family: Your brand new Development Committee is making sure Atlantic Derm is a great experience for you and your entire family. In addition to the “Philly Fun Run,” we have arranged for an “Atlantic Derm Night at the Ballpark” for the Friday night Phillies game with reduced ticket prices for Atlantic Derm. Check out the “Philly Attractions” page on our website for fun-filled activities, discounted museum tickets, and good eats for the whole family. The City of Brotherly Love awaits!

If you have any thoughts or questions regarding this year’s conference, email or tweet us!

Sincerely,

Mark Abdelmalek, MD

Saturday | April 25, 2015
8:00am - 11:00am

Penn Medicine Washington Square
800 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, PA 19107

Roundtrip shuttle will be provided

Atlantic Derm's live patient viewing session and discussion is always a conference highlight. During this full-day course, patients with exceptional diagnostic or therapeutic challenges are seen and examined by conference attendees. Cases presented also feature rare skin disorders, cutaneous manifestations of systemic disease and use of novel treatments.

The afternoon patient viewing discussion will include a review and analysis of the morning cases moderated by a panel of expert dermatologists and dermatopathologists.

This year we will be featuring interactive sessions to promote audience engagement. This conversation among conference attendees will be facilitated through the "Socrative" app which can be downloaded to smartphones or accessed online in the conference session at www.socrative.com. We are very excited about launching this initiative this year!

After the completion of this session, attendees will gain new insight into diagnosis, treatment and evaluation of challenging dermatology patients.

Keynote

Saturday | April 25, 2015
12:00pm - 1:00pm

Morris H. Wolff, Esquire
Renowned International Humanitarian and Scholar

Morris Wolff is an acclaimed international human rights lawyer and humanitarian.

Wolff served as legal counsel for Civil Rights issues in the John F. Kennedy White House and was appointed by US Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy to help create The Civil Rights Act of 1964. Along with Rosa Parks, Wolff was awarded the National Council of Christian and Jews Annual Award for humanitarian service for helping to write The Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Wolff was honored by the United States Congress in 2005 for his humanitarian efforts in seeking the release of Raoul Wallenberg, a Swedish Diplomat who saved the lives of more than 100,000 Jews during the Holocaust, but was later imprisoned by the Soviets. In 1983, Mr. Wolff won a historic lawsuit against the Soviet Union on behalf of Raoul Wallenberg. The US Federal Courts awarded the Wallenberg family $39 million dollars in damages and found the Soviets liable for the kidnapping of Wallenberg.

Wolff is also the recipient of the United Nations Peace Award for Humanitarian Service at Carnegie Hall and is a graduate of Amherst College and Yale Law School. He is currently the Scholar-in-Residence at the historic St. Peter's School in Philadelphia.

CME | 16.25 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™

The Philadelphia Dermatological Society's 2015 Atlantic Dermatological Conference (Program #82100) is recognized by the American Academy of Dermatology for 16.25 AAD Credits and may be used toward the American Academy of Dermatology's Continuing Medical Education Award.

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the essential areas and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint sponsorship of National Association for Continuing Education and the Philadelphia Dermatological Society. The National Association for Continuing Education is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The National Association for Continuing Education designates this live activity for a maximum of 16.25 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Disclosure Policy: It is the policy of the National Association for Continuing Education to ensure fair balance, independence, objectivity and scientific rigor in all activities. All faculty participating in CME activities sponsored by the National Association for Continuing Education are required to present evidence-based data, identify and reference off-label product use and disclose all relevant financial relationships with those supporting the activity or others whose products or services are discussed. Faculty disclosure will be provided in the activity materials.

Commercial Support: This CME activity is supported by an educational grant from Galderma Laboratories, L.P. If additional commercial support is received for this activity, participants will be notified in onsite materials.

Statement of Need: Significant advances have occurred in the diagnosis and treatment of dermatological conditions. Practitioners in the field need educational opportunities to gain knowledge of recent findings and newly accepted standards related to diagnostic techniques and treatment options. By providing up to date information on the latest advances in diagnostics, therapies, and pathogenesis by those who specialize in the field, our goal is to facilitate best practices and improve current provider practices.

Target Audience: This CME activity is designed for Dermatologists, NPs, PAs, Medical Students, Residents/Fellows and other specialists from the Mid-Atlantic region of the United States and Canada.

Learning Objectives: At the conclusion of this CME activity, learners should be able to discuss clinical presentation and pathophysiology of dermatologic conditions; discuss the diagnosis and treatment of the conditions covered; and discuss general clinical advances in the field of dermatology and issues specific to practitioners in the field.
